TYPHOID FEVER.

Aurely Ends The Life of Orlin Moore.

In Comes Saturday Morning and Burial Was Sunday Afternoon.

GENERAL SORROW PREVAILS MARION.

Orlin Moore, the second son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Moore, died Saturday morning shortly after nine o'clock, of typhoid fever. He was confined to his bed for just two weeks, but had really been sick for several days before he consented to give up. The disease was in a most virulent form and the young man's condition was critical almost from the time he was prostrated. Everything possible was done for his relief. All the science known to the medical profession was brought to bear, skilled and devoted nursing and attentions from friends and relatives were given without stint, but all proved unavailing before the grim Reaper, Death.

He was taken just at the period when he stood at the thresh-hold of manhood, with the vista stretching before him bright with promises of a long life of happiness and the successful achievement of those things which tend to the betterment, advancement and uplifting of mankind. Orlin was in his seventeenth year. He was a member of the class in the Marion High School which would have graduated next year and already his plans were made for continuing, to a well-rounded completion, his education in college. He was healthy and robust, of an active temperament, and possessed an intellect which was quick to receive impressions or instruction and was retentive to an unusual degree. He was never satisfied unless busy and he was constantly planning for further improvement and preparation to take a real man's place in the world's affairs. He was indeed one of nature's noblemen, for every instinct was refined and this had been intensified by a home training until he abhorred anything which approached the coarse, the vulgar or the wrong. He was as modest and retiring as a girl, with a heart and life pure and undefiled, a deep respect and consideration for everyone with whom he was associated, and a love of home, of parents, of brothers and relatives that was all-absorbing and beautiful in the extreme. To him his parents were indeed his counselors, to whom he went for solace in times of trouble or sorrow, and at whose feet he joyously laid as tribute the victories he had won in his boyish world or in school. His three brothers, Virgil, Homer and Neville, were his boon companions and he was as deeply interested in their affairs and as jealously guarded them as he did his own. He was brave in spirit, loyal and devoted in his friendship and devout in the profession of Christianity which he made at the age of thirteen years, since which time he had been a faithful and consistent member of the Methodist church. He realized for several days the seriousness of his condition but at no time did he show a word or sign that he feared in the least to go down into the valley and shadow of death, but instead his one regret seemed to be the premature termination of all the bright hopes and future held for him, and the snuffing of home and family ties.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence in East Marion, and never in history was there a larger or more sincerely sympathetic gathering of relatives and friends to mingle their tears with those of the bereaved parents and brothers. The services were conducted by the Rev. J. B. Adams of the Methodist church and the songs were sung by Mesdames Fannie Walker, J. H. Orme, Miss Nellie Sutherland, Messrs. Geo. M. Crider and C. S. Nunn.

In his prayer Bro. Adams touchingly asked for Divine aid and comfort for the sorrowing ones. His talk was eloquent and a beautiful tribute to the stainless character and life of the deceased. The text was John 13-7—"What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter." The preacher stated that, looking at it from the human viewpoint, we could not understand why it was that a promising life like Orlin Moore's should be cut short as it was, but that the ways of God are inscrutable and full of wisdom and that what now seems to be a dark and unexplainable mystery would be made light and the wisdom of it shown when the troubles and trials and tribulations of this vale of tears were over and his loved ones had joined him in Heaven to which happy estate his death was merely the forerunner of his going.

The remains were laid to rest in the new cemetery, the funeral cortège being one of the longest that ever passed through the streets of Marion. An especially touching feature of the procession was the part taken by the members of the 1910 High School class and the Sunday School class to which the young man belonged. Headed by Prof. J. P. King, principal of the Marion Graded School, the boys and girls of next year's graduating class marched by twos from the residence to the cemetery. Immediately behind them, and in the same formation, came the young men of the Sunday School class led by the teacher, H. D. Pollard. These intimates of the deceased maintained a position alongside the hearse throughout the entire route, thus forming an escort of honor prompted by the purest motives—those of sincere love, respect and sorrow.

Even to the last details the sad rites were performed by intimate friends, the pall bearers being Messrs. W. B. Yandell, H. K. Woods, J. H. Orme, Geo. M. Crider, J. C. Bourland and T. H. Cochran, the hearse being driven by J. M. Freeman and the grave being rounded up by Senator P. S. Maxwell.

The floral offerings were numerous and handsome and when placed in position covered the mound under which the young man sleeps. The brief services at the Cemetery were impressive and just before these were begun a last invitation was given for the friends to look upon the features of the dead boy who had the appearance of having dropped into a quiet and peaceful sleep. After the burial was over scores of sympathizing friends offered their condolence to the surviving members of the stricken family.

As Bro. Adams said in his talk, it is hard to give up a character like Orlin Moore, but when we think of the happiness he has shed by his sunny nature, the incentive he has given to his companions and those younger than himself to emulate his example and lead a blameless life, and the comfort, help and pride he was to his parents we should rather give thanks that he was allowed to remain with us as long as he was for the constant blessing derived from association with him and the glorious memory that is left us for the future.

CHICASHAS SHUT-OUT.

By Marion in a Hotly Contested Battle at Maxwell Park.

Cooperider Struck Out Twenty men And Allowed But One Hit.

COMPLETE WALK-OVER FOR MARION

Saturday afternoon's game was a complete walk-over for Marion, the Indians being shut out with but one hit and no runs. Only four men reached first base, and one of these got as far as third, but died there. Cooperider was in great form, and the red-skins simply had not the least chance against him. His pitching and the field work behind him would have won against almost any team. Twenty men fanned, Perryman put one out by catching a foul fly, five were caught at first base, and Guess retired the other by holding on to a line drive. One single to center, two bases on balls, and Marion's lone error put four men on bases, but whenever they were there, Cooperider was simply invincible to the batter. In the second inning, two bases on balls put men on first and second, and a passed ball advanced them to second and third; nobody was out, and it began to look as if the Indians would score, but Cooperider fanned the next three men, and the last hope of the Chicashas perished.

Jones, the first pitcher put up by the Indians, proved good. Marion could do nothing with him until the fifth, when Cooperider opened up with Marion's first hit; a base on balls to Cannan put him on second, Dixon sacrificed him to third, and he came home on Rochester's infield hit. Cannan scored a moment later on a passed ball, making more than enough to win. Hayes then relieved Jones, and Marion made no more in that inning. Atkins went in to pitch in the sixth, and did well. Marion had three on bases and nobody out in the sixth, but Atkins struck out three. Marion scored one in the seventh on an error, a passed ball and two hits.

This is Cooperiders fourth game pitched for Marion, and fourth victory, the last three being shut-outs; eight hits have been made off him in the four games, an average of two to the game. During the same games, Marion has made thirty-five hits, and only eight errors. Such pitching with that kind of batting and support from an amateur team, will win nearly every time. Marion is certainly putting up a stiff game, with Kraft and Cooperider pitching, and the boys backing them up in the way they are doing. Besides being an extra good pitcher, Kraft plays a star game at first, and his base-running is a revelation to some of our friends; his continual talking during an inning is a great bracer for the team, as well as being entertaining for the crowd. Those teams who based their hopes of defeating Marion on the fact that Paul Gossage is out of the game are certainly being disappointed. We may lose some games yet, but the teams that do defeat the boys are going to have to play major league ball to do it.

MARION LOSES TWO GAMES

TO PRINCETON.

Princeton won both games of ball from Marion this week. Tuesday the score was 6 to 3, and yesterday our home team was shut out, while Princeton scored 3. So Princeton is 4-0 on us with even shut outs. We are very proud of our boys notwithstanding they were defeated in both of these hotly contested games. Both were good games and that both are fast teams there is no doubt and with the best of feeling we will say; Let each team have its picked battery home boys for the other positions and see who has the best team. If it be true that Princeton played but four or five of her regular team there is little for her to exult over.

THE CRITTENDEN RECORD-PRESS goes to its 4,000 readers this week under a change of ownership and under new editorial management, N. E. Calmes having leased the plant from S. M. Jenkins for the term of 17 months, with the privilege and expectation of buying at any time during this period. The new Editor, while a stranger to many of you, comes from the good old town of Sturgis, in the proud and rich county of Union to a town and county inhabited by as true and loyal citizens as can be found in the Commonwealth of the time-honored State of Kentucky, to cast his lot with them for ever and aye. The aim of the Editor will be to devote his whole time and energy in an effort to make the RECORD-PRESS second to no county paper in the State, and above all, to protect the interests of the people of Crittenden county. Its politics will be Democratic and yet realizing the fact that the good Republicans of the proud old county of Crittenden, have no party organ, its columns will be open to them for a fair deal. In no instance will an article from either side be accepted that is calculated to stir up strife or is not clean. If a man gets the idea in his head that he is bound to raise —ll, let him do so in his own neighborhood, at home and not through the columns of the RECORD-PRESS. In leaving my native country, Union, where I have friends I love with the love that Jonathan had for David and where my sweet mother sleeps the long sleep in the light of the same sun that warms and makes bright and glad the hearts of God's people every where, I do so with the full knowledge that I am casting my lot with as proud and loyal people as live under the banner of Old Glory and to this people I take off my hat. In casting my eye about for a good town I found none that suited me so well as Marion, and here, for weal or woe I cast my lot with her proud people and to stand loyal to them and the citizenship of Crittenden in their struggle for right and supremacy.

THE BOYCOTT.

THE large number of deaths among babies in the recent severely warm weather has been altogether out of proportion to the number in previous years from the same cause. The reason given by one doctor, is that the babies have not been taken out enough in the air. In his own practice he said he knew of three babies whose lives could have been saved if they had been taken out for rides on the street cars.

The parents of these babies did not have automobiles or horses. They couldn't afford to hire from the livery stable. But the street cars were running and six rides for a quarter were within their means. But because 77 men were standing out for five or six preferred runs—not that they wanted them so much for themselves, but because they didn't want other employees of the company to have them—the parents of these babies would not take them out riding. These three instances are from the observation of one physician. There may have been many others.

The loss of these three babies was a pretty severe sacrifice to sympathy for men who refused to return to work because they could not out five or six crews of old employees from the five or six preferred runs they had. Wasn't it?

Now, the dangerous period of the summer is yet to come—the last half of July and the month of August. How many more babies are to be sacrificed to this boycott which can never result in anything. It can never give these men the five or six preferred runs. Change the rosy cheeks of every cooing, dimpled baby in this city to the deathly pallor and the drawn and wasted look and nothing would come of it. Why then keep up this awful, useless sacrifice?

It is on the poor people that the boycott rests heavily—not upon those with automobiles, and horses and buggies. And it is on the women and babies—not the strong men. Is the sacrifice worth while?

The strike, as a strike, is at an end. All that remains is the boycott. Any talk of "settling the strike" is childish. As was said in The Courier Wednesday:

Any further talk of "settling the strike" should be put in its true light as mischievous. No good or honest purpose can be behind any such suggestion. It can only be with the object of offering false hopes or fomenting trouble.

This issue is not now the strike, but the boycott. That is all there is left. And the boycott affects the very people who can least stand it. It has cut off for them their amusement parks, their places for getting away from the summer heat, their cheap and convenient method of gaining fresh air and escapement from dust and worry. It has imposed burdens on working people who already have onerous enough burdens.

The employer may drive home in the cool breeze, but the little stenographer and the clerk must trudge the hot and dusty streets, and all too often because her employer—God pity him—will help his business.

The issue is not now the strike, for that is ended, but the boycott which is causing infinite hardship and cannot by any possibility have any result.—EVANSVILLE COURIER.

WE say Amen to this. We have seen enough of strikes and boycotts to know the affects and better still to know the class most responsible for their evil results.

WE call the attention of the public this week to the page ads of the Yandell-Guggenheim Company and Taylor & Cannan. Both of these firms are composed of business men of ability, having long since found out the value of printers ink. That advertising pays is evident or these wide-a-wake firms would not waste their money. They have the goods and make it known to the public through the newspapers. They are public spirited, enterprising men who hold to the policy that what is worth doing is worth doing right. They advertise what they have and make good every word they say. Carefully read their ads and come to them for bargains.

During the service at the grave of Orlin Moore in the beautiful New Marion cemetery Sunday evening while the lovely casket was resting over the grave, one of the most touching sights ever witnessed was the long procession of his class mates and Sunday School class, girls and boys marching up the beautiful drive way, in the glistening evening sunlight, with uncovered heads. It was indeed touching, scarcely an eye witnessing it undimmed by tears. The burial service, in the hands of the well-known undertaking establishment of Nunn & Tucker, was conducted without a hitch and was one of the most beautiful ever witnessed. One of the many beautiful and costly floral designs, was a decorated wheel, with one spoke missing.

Street cleaning and weed cutting along the side walks, under the supervision of our worthy marshall, A. S. Cannan, who is also street Commissioner, was begun last week in dead earnest and the improvement was so noticeable that every citizen is likely to enlist in the effort to aid the town of weeds and grass. This move is of more real importance to the health conditions of Marion than perhaps it is credited with.

JAPAN is facing a war debt of $1,120,565,000, with little probability of its being reduced in the next few years. New York, London, Paris, and Berlin are the principal stockholders in the little empire. It must be something awful to be in hell, but next to it is to be in debt.

The attention of the public is called to the great 20 per cent discount sale add., of Mrs. A. S. Cavender in this weeks issue. Mrs. Cavender has a large and well selected stock of Ladies and Misses and childrens shoes, ready made underwear, ladies tailored suits and in fact every item to be found in any first-class ladies furnishing establishment.

TAXES DUE.

The state and county taxes are now due and to relieve the sheriff of a great responsibility, should be paid at once. On December 1, I, as sheriff of Crittenden county, am required to settle with the state, and if I should fail to collect these taxes it would work a hardship on me as well as my bondsmen, to have to pay your taxes. So come up at once and settle your taxes promptly. Do not wait for the penalty, or even nearness to it, but pay them now if you possibly can.

In the near future I will have appointments for myself or one of my deputies for each precinct and to meet us at the designated time and place to receive a clear receipt for your taxes, will aid your sheriff more than you may perhaps imagine.

Now, as my whole desire is to try to collect the taxes for this year without a single levy, or even penalty, I again urge you to aid me in this by coming to these places or to my office at Marion and settling same.

Hoping every tax payer of Crittenden county will aid me by an early settlement of the common burden wrestling upon all in proportion as God has blessed him,

I am yours very respectfully,
J. G. ASHER, S. C. C.

H. R. Dyer Gets Arm Caught In a Threshing Machine.

Late yesterday afternoon Mr. H. R. Dyer, of Henshaw, was seriously injured by a threshing machine at work on Mr. Thos. Parish's farm.

Just how the accident occurred could not be ascertained last night, but his arm was caught in the machine and horribly cut and torn.

An artery was severed and for a while it was feared he would bleed to death. Dr. Nunn was hastily summoned and after doing what he could telephoned for Dr. Lindle of Sturgis, who left at once in an automobile to attend the sufferer.

A telephone message from Henshaw last night stated that the physicians said it would be necessary to amputate the arm in order to save Mr. Dyer's life.—Morganfield Sun.

For Sale.

We are authorized to sell the old Southern Presbyterian church building and lot in Fredonia, Ky.

Those desiring to purchase will please mail bids for same to J. W. Blue, Jr., of Marion, Ky., before the 15th of August 1909.

A Family Reunion.

Dr. T. Atchison Frazer on Sunday the 11th attended the reunion of the Frazer family, at the home of his father Thos. Frazer near Dalton, Ky. All twelve of the children 8 boys and four girls, were present on this happy occasion, for the first time in their lives. No deaths having visited this family during their long lives, the last verse of the 23rd Psalm is evidently applicable, "Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever."

A Creditable Home Institution.

Henry & Henry the clever owners of the Marion Marble works, are we are glad to say, doing a prosperous and active business. Last week they shipped a number of nice orders to Hopkinsville amounting to several hundred dollars, and are now preparing some beautiful work for shipment to Livingston county. They are good men and hustlers.

Damage to Crops In Union Co.

Hon. Jno. W. Blue returned Friday evening from a two days visit to his farm in Union County. Mr. Blue found the damage to crops from last weeks rain, greater than reported. Along the line of the eleven mile Quarry ditch the damage to the crops is estimated at from fifty to seventy-five thousand dollars, while in all the creeks and branch bottoms all over the county the damage is great. Mr. Blue reports 80 acres of fine corn a total loss on his farm, which is under the management of our good friend Dave Woods.

At and near Henshaw the damage was greater than at any other point, Marsh Henshaw alone is reported to have sustained a loss in excess of $5,000.00.

Loss In Henderson County.

"Fully 75 percent. of the crop in our neighborhood was damaged by the recent rain and wind storms," said Squire George T. Baldwin, of Cairo, Saturday.

The loss of Arch Melton, on the Chris. Whitledge place, was about 25 acres of corn, and he is said to have only two acres left out of 14 acres of tobacco.

The farm of Col. R. H. Soaperiu the bottom is said to have sustained a loss of 100 acres of corn.—Henderson Journal.

Card Of Thanks

To our neighbors and friends who so kindly and in so many ways assisted us during the recent sickness in our family, we wish to express our sincere thanks and deepest gratitude. And especially do we thank those who were so thoughtful of Orlin in his last illness and sent him so many beautiful flowers from time to time. He was so sick, and suffered so much, yet he often spoke of and called to see the flowers that had been sent him. It was such a pleasure to him and so much comfort to us to know that he had been so kindly remembered.

To each and every one who in any way rendered us assistance or gave us words of consolation during these dark and dreary hours we thank from the very depths of our hearts and assure each of you that by your many acts of kindness and words of consolation, it made our burden easier to bear.

Very respectfully,
A. C. Moore and family.

Democratic Primary Election

Fourth Judicial District Saturday Aug. 28, 1909.

Princeton, Ky., July 14, 1909.

The Democratic Executive Committee for the Fourth Judicial District of Kentucky, composed of the counties of Hopkins, Caldwell, Crittenden and Livingston, this day, in accordance with a call made by the Chairman of the said Fourth Judicial District of Kentucky, assembled Chairman Democratic Executive Committee Fourth Judicial District of Kentucky.

Attest: MARION F. POGUE,
Secretary

Sell's Growing Crop of Corn.

Fearing the total destruction of his crop of 80 acres of fine corn in the river bottom, Newt Bracy, last week, sold it to Seldon Ainsworth for $750. The crop is promising and if not damaged by the overflow will be worth more than three times the price paid. Men with money can take these risks.

AN ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

A bold attempt at robbery was made Saturday night as a number of persons were returning from Maxwell Park, where they had been to witness a ball game.

Mrs. Sarah Gill, manager of the Gill House, who was one of the party on their return home from the park, was walking along a short distance in advance of several others. As she was crossing Depot street going toward her hotel on Main street, some one suddenly emerged from the roadside and, seizing her, attempted to get possession of the handbag which she carried with her.

Mrs. Gill, however, was equal to the occasion. Instead of wasting time by screaming, calling for a policeman, or any of the other of the conventional modes of procedures under such circumstances, she wrested herself from the grip of her assailant, and dealt him a Jeffreys-like blow with her fist which, landing on his head, sent him to the ground. Mrs. Gill then left him and went home. By the time the others, who had witnessed the scene from a distance, came up the man had risen and disappeared. Mrs. Gill did not recognize the would-be robber, but says he was a white man. Her hand was somewhat bruised and the handbag badly torn, otherwise no injury was done.

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

Having leased the "CRITTENDEN RECORD-PRESS" newspaper plant, and quarters to N. E. Calmes, of Sturgis. I desire in retiring as Editor to commend my successor to the readers and patrons of this publication. During the past six years I have done with the paper as I do with all matters with which I am connected—the best I could under all conditions and all circumstances.

The paper has prospered and the most uniform courtesy and kindness has at all times characterized the treatment of patrons toward the Editor who took charge entirely in experienced in newspaper work. Therefore the compliments which have come to us are prized, and the fact that we have had no complaints is not forgotten. Mr. Calmes, my successor, is a newspaper man and can improve all the details of the paper. For thirty years his gifted pen has pleased his readers in different parts of the land. He is a correspondent any paper would like to secure, a friend in time of need and an editor whose trenchant pen and bright mind will from the start be felt in old Crittenden and where ever the RECORD-PRESS is read. That he may be a benefit to Marion and vicinity is my belief and desire.

S. M. JENKINS.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to thank the good friends and neighbors for their kindness to us in the sickness and death of our dear mother, Martha Holomon. May God's blessings rest upon each and all of them.

Her Son.

Best Stomach Remedy Free

It is an old saying that if the stomach is sound the whole body is safe, because so much depends upon the proper working of the stomach. Many persons find themselves with a disorder of the stomach which produces dyspepsia or a peculiar state of biliousness.

If you suffer from both stomach trouble and constipation you are on the way to a very serious disease. From just such conditions come appendicitis, rheumatism, skin diseases and similar disorders, because the waste matter that should have been eliminated through the kidneys and the bowels has found its way into the blood and vitiated it. What is needed at this point is not simply a violent cathartic tablet or salt, which usually does more harm than good, but a gentle laxative to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi, which people have been taking for these ailments for nearly a quarter of a century.

It cured J. C. Lanham, of Rensburg, Mo., of stomach trouble of long standing, also William Voll, of 903 Ellison St., Louisville, Ky., who had the trouble for fifteen years.

However, if you have stomach trouble you want to know from personal experience what Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi will do for you. If so, send your name to the doctor and a free trial bottle will be sent you. You are urged to send for the bottle, as the results from it will be the best recommendation of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi. Then when you do as over two million people did last year—go to your druggist and buy regular bottle at 50 cents or $1, according to the size you prefer. We could mention hundreds and hundreds of families who are never without it. You can never tell who a member of the family will need a laxative, and then no time should be lost taking Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsi.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 500 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

Education.

About the sixth century, B. C., the Commonwealth, of Athens, the leading city of the Ionians, elected Solon, as chief ruler and bestowed upon him unlimited power and authority. He gave to Athens a constitution and code of laws, political, religious, social and educational. These were very different from those, Lycurgus, gave to Sparta.

Especially different was the system of education provided for. It differed in aim, and therefore it differed in curriculum methods of instruction, support and attendance.

But the meaning of education today does not mean to prepare men for war but for civil life. It not only means to develop the mind, but the heart, muscle and willpower as well.

Kentucky ranks about thirty-seven in education and a great part of our people live in the country, and the question of the education which the country boy and girl should receive is one of highest importance to the commonwealth. And it is a problem most likely to be overlooked. When educators assemble, it is the college man and the city teacher who are at the front. The needs of the city schools and the proper method for their management are more or less prominent before the public. The country school and the country school teacher, are out of sight, and forgotten. Now let us consider what are the needs of those country boys and girls. They have a good physical start in their country outdoor life, but here comes the pull, where shall they get the ideals of life, the principles of conduct, the inspiration and motives of achievement that shall fit them to make the most of themselves and their families? By the fact, that they are far from town, they may be sheltered from many temptations and evils of city life. But, they are in special need of the awakening voice and the guiding hand that shall put them in step with the progressive force of the world and make them share in the best elements of our civilization.

Could we but see every country home beautified in its surroundings, its humble hearth, graced by a shelf of books. It would take this to make a man fully competent to manage the affairs of school.

The people of Kentucky has been very slow in learning, some times they will say, I have educated my children, but they never think any thing about their neighbors' children, but remember what is good for your children will be good for his. Every man should take an interest in school affairs, not only in his own home, but in every home. When the whole country gets aroused and gets right down to business, puts their shoulders to the wheel, then we are going to pull together and raise Kentucky above the thirty-seventh mark in education. Every one of us has got some had propositions to deal with. I have talked with some who you couldn't interest on the subject, but they had much rather talk to you about hunting, a good pack of hounds and had rather be able to tell you when a hound was running on a cold trail, than to tell you he knew how to spell and could write a business letter. But the time is here, I am glad to say, when we are going to have better schools, better opportunities to acquire an education. So now boys and girls, its up to you, its yours if you want it. So now be ready, everyone of you, to partake when this fall's school begins, set your aim high and work downward every day, and remember that you are citizens and are laboring to build up not only yourself but your community as well, and, remember how much good you can do your fellow schoolmates if by nothing else but being a straight up and down gentleman, and ever ready to take hold and push, don't be a pull back to yourself, and above all, don't get the old cry started "Don't like the teacher," for you must bear in mind one man or woman can't please every body, for Christ didn't, but get to looking at school work as a business proposition, and make a business out of it by going every day, studying all the time you possibly can, then you are a success,

Better Not Get Dyspepsia

If you can help it, Kodol prevents Dyspepsia, by effectually helping Nature to Relieve Indigestion. But don't trifle with Indigestion.

A great many people who have trifled with indigestion, have been sorry for it—when nervous or chronic dyspepsia resulted, and they have not been able to cure it. Use Kodol and prevent having Dyspepsia.

Everyone is subject to indigestion. Stomach derangement follows stomach abuse, just as naturally and just as surely as a sound and healthy stomach results upon the taking of Kodol.

When you experience sourness of stomach, belching of gas and nauseating fluid, bloated sensation, gnawing pain in the pit of the stomach, heart burn (so-called), diarrhoea, headaches, dullness or chronic tired feeling—you need Kodol. And then the quicker you take Kodol—the better. Eat what you want, let Kodol digest it.

Ordinary pepsin "dyspepsia tablets," physics, etc., are not likely to be of much benefit to you, in digestive ailments. Pepsin is only a partial digester—and physics are not digesters at all.

Kodol is a perfect digester. If you could see Kodol digesting every particle of food, of all kinds, in the glass test-tube in our laboratories, you would know this just as well as we do.

Nature and Kodol will always cure a sick stomach—but in order to be cured, the stomach must rest. That is what Kodol does—it rests the stomach, while the stomach gets well. Just as simple as A. E. C.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today and get a bottle of Kodol. Then after a few days enter into contest with the bottle if you can honestly say that it has not done you any good, will return the bottle to the druggist and he will refund your money without question. You will then pay the druggist for the bottle. Don't hesitate, all druggists know that our guarantee is good. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family. The large bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

Kodol is prepared at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

Night Riders Send Threatening Letters to Hopkins Co Growers.

The Madisonville Journal says: "In the absence of a joke column in the pages of the Journal it is necessary to place the following intelligent missive under a foreign caption. It is printed to show on what a low plane some one places Kentucky manhood, even more for that reason than to fill space.

This brilliant bit of intelligence was addressed from Princeton, Ky., but mailed on an L. & N. train. Here is the ludicrous epistle:

Camp of Night Riders, Princeton, Ky.—We want this distinctively understood, that every man that lays out of the Association in Hopkins county may depend on getting his back skinned and fire stuck to his barn. We want to say to any man that intends to buy tobacco in Hopkins county that we have got plenty of hemp rope and bullets and you can depend on having it used on you.

It is the ludicrous epistle:

from irregularities, terrible dragging sensations, extreme nervousness, and that all gone feeling in my stomach. I had given up hope of ever being well when I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Then I felt as though new life had been given me, and I am recommending it to all my friends."—Mrs. W. S. Ford, 1938 Lansdowne St., Baltimore, Md.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test of years and to-day is more widely and successfully used than any other female remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulence, indigestion, and nervous prostration after all other means had failed.

If you are suffering from any of these ailments, don't give up hope until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. She has guided thousands to health, free of charge.

Discovered in Woods.

West Point, Ky., July 20.—The dead body of Clarence Masters, a farmer, aged twenty-one years, was found today by a searching party in a dense woods, near Maldrough.

Masters went out yesterday afternoon squirrel hunting and not returning at night his family became alarmed and a searching party was formed. He was shot through the bowels and had been dead several hours.

able train crew in the United States is that of the Chicago express over the Philadelphia and Reading and Lehigh Valley railroads. The conductor of the train is H. M. Saltman, both the engineer and fireman are his brothers. If there is another case where three brothers compose the major portion of a train crew it is not on record. The conductor is the oldest of thirteen children, twelve of whom are living. He climbed to his present post via the brakeman route, while his brothers choose the locomotive end.—Cincinnati Record.

He Forgot The Printer.

They counted him an honest man!

Through Summer, Fall and Winter.

He paid the butcher every week—

But he clean forgot the printer.

He settled with the bank each month;

The balance made him caper,

But he owed at least two years or more

For the little village paper.

He went to church and Sunday-school,

To Thursday night prayer meeting

For each "reform" that came his way

He had a hearty greeting.

For every "high" and "holy" cause

You'd always find him praying,

And he took the paper "to help it along."

But he never thought of paying.

He had a "pull" in politics,

The candidates all sought him,

But when he did ne'er balance up

With the revenue it brought him.

And so, from year to year, this,

This sepulcher all whitened

Went on his way dispensing grace

To sinful man benighted.

And when at last Time's ruthless

scythe

Cut down the withered weed, His heirs prepared a fairy tale For witless man to read,

His soul released from earthly bonds

Now rests where there's no winter,

And they know above, or down below,

That he never paid the printer.
